DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claim 17 is objected to because of the following informalities: on line 2 of the claim, it appears that "instruction an sequence" should be "an instruction sequence".

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claim 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Claim 25 lacks the proper preamble necessary for a statutory computer program product claim. See MPEP 2100 for guidance on computer related inventions. The examiner suggests a preamble as follows:

"A computer readable medium encoded with instructions capable of being executed by a computer for registering a mobile node with a home agent including:"

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 2617

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1, 9, 17, 25, and 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yokote, US Patent Application Publication Number 2002/0157024 (hereinafter Yokote).

Regarding claims 1, 9, 17, 25, and 33, Yokote discloses a method for registering a mobile node with a home agent comprising: determining a home agent; establishing between the mobile node and the determined home agent a security tunnel having associated with said tunnel a single security association; and registering the mobile node with the home agent using the security tunnel [paragraph 0013].

6. Claims 1, 3-7, 9, 11-15, 17, 19-23, 25, 27-31, 33, and 35-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Thubert et al., US Patent Application Publication Number 2004/0202183 (hereinafter Thubert).

Regarding claims 1, 9, 17, 25, and 33, Thubert discloses a method for registering a mobile node with a home agent comprising: determining a home agent; establishing between the mobile node and the determined home agent a security tunnel having associated with said tunnel a single security association; and registering the mobile node with the home agent using the security tunnel [abstract; paragraphs 0006, 0015, 0039, 0048].

Art Unit: 2617

Regarding claims 3, 11, 19, 27, and 35, Thubert discloses wherein registering the mobile node with the home agent comprises: dispatching a binding update request to the home agent using the security tunnel; and receiving a binding update acknowledgement by way of a reverse path security tunnel [paragraph 0036].

Regarding claims 4, 12, 20, 28, and 36, Thubert discloses discovering an applicable prefix for the home agent using the security tunnel [paragraph 0048].

Regarding claims 5, 13, 21, 29, and 37, Thubert discloses conveying data to a correspondent node using the security tunnel [paragraphs 0035, 0048].

Regarding claims 6, 14, 22, 30, and 38, Thubert discloses communicating a return routability signal to the home agent using the security tunnel [paragraphs 0042, 0045, 0051].

Regarding claims 7, 15, 23, 31, and 39, Thubert discloses establishing a reverse path security tunnel having associated with said tunnel a single security association [paragraphs 0044, 0048].

7. Claims 1, 2, 8-10, 16-18, 24-26, 32-34, and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Johansson et al., US Patent Application Publication Number 2002/0080752 (hereinafter Johansson).

Regarding claims 1, 9, 17, 25, and 33, Johansson discloses a method for registering a mobile node with a home agent comprising: determining a home agent; establishing between the mobile node and the determined home agent a security tunnel having associated with said tunnel a single security association; and registering the mobile node with the home agent using the security tunnel [paragraphs 0114, 0126, 0138].

Regarding claims 2, 10, 18, 26, and 34, Johansson discloses establishing a security tunnel comprises: creating a security policy database for at least one of a binding update message, a return routability message, prefix discovery message and payload data packet; and associating two or more security policy databases with a security tunnel using a single security association [paragraphs 0092-0093, 0114].

Regarding claims 8, 16, 24, 32, and 40, Johansson discloses establishing a reverse path security tunnel comprises creating a security policy database for at least one of a binding update message, a return routability message, prefix discovery message and payload data packet; and associating one or more security policy databases with a security tunnel using a single security association [paragraphs 0092-0093, 0114, 0129].

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Adrangi et al., US Patent Application Publication Number 2005/0113109, disclose context-based registrations based on intelligent location prediction.
